

Each style of bonsai, of which there are many, should display harmony and balance in plant groupings and containers chosen. Each bonsai must create the image of being a miniature form of a full size tree which causes an inspiration from nature.